

VOCABULARY CHAPTER XVI

consolor, -ari, consolatus sum, to console, comfort influo, -ere, -fluxi, to flow into intueor, -eri, intuitus sum, to gaze upon labor, -i, lapsus sum, to slip, fall paulum, a little semper adv always serenus, -a, -um, clear, serene servo, -are, to save, preserve turbidus, -a, -um, disturbed, wild vero adv in truth, really altum, -i, sea, the deep appello, -are, to call ater, atra, atrum, black cerno, -ere, crevi, cretum, to discern, distinguish; decide complector, -i, complexus sum, to embrace conor, -ari, conatus sum, to try conscendo, -ere, -i, to climb onto, board (ship, horse, carriage, etc.) contrarius, -a, -um, contrary, opposite, opposed egredior, -i, egressus sum, to go out fio, fieri, factus sum, to become, be made flo, -are, to blow fluctus, -us m wave fulgur, -uris n lightning gubernator, -oris m pilot (of a ship) guberno, -are, to govern, steer haurio, -ire, hausi, haustum, to drain, draw out iacto, -are, to toss (back and forth) impleo, -ere, -evi, -etum, to fill up inferus, -a, -um, lower intersum, -esse, -fui, to be between invoco, -are, to call upon iterum adv again

laetor, -ari, to rejoice locus, -i m/n location, place loquor, -i, locutus sum, to speak maritimus, -a, -um, maritime, sea merx, mercis f merchandise nauta, -ae m sailor navigo, -are, to sail navis, -is f ship occidens, -entis, west; falling occido, -ere, -cidi, -casum, to fall opperior, -iri, opertus sum, to await ora, -ae f shore oriens, -ientis, east; rising portus, -i m port praeterea adv besides, moreover proficiscor, -i, profectus sum, to set out, depart, embark propter + acc on account of puppis, -is f stern (of a ship) orior, -iri, ortus sum, to arise septentriones, -um mpl north sequor, -i, secutus sum, to follow simul adv at the same time situs, -a, -um, located, situated sive conj or superus, -a, -um, upper tempestas, -atis f storm; season tonitrus, -us m thunder tranquillus, -a, -um, calm turbo, -are, to stir up, disturb velum, -i n sail ventus, -i m wind vereor, -eri, veritus sum, to revere, fear, respect vix adv scarcely, hardly